Dispute Information for Survivors of Human Trafficking

Survivors of Human Trafficking have specific rights under FCRA and Regulation V Human Trafficking Rule. Survivors of Human Trafficking may submit documentation to dispute any adverse information that may be a result of Human Trafficking. The following documentation is required to dispute any adverse information:

- Detailed written statement describing the reason for your dispute and information describing the adverse information you would like disputed.
- Documentation of a determination that you have been a victim of trafficking:
 - A Federal, State, or Tribal governmental entity,
 - A court of competent jurisdiction, which includes certain documents filed in court;
 - A non-governmental organization or human trafficking task force, including victim service providers affiliated with these entities, authorized by a Federal, State, or Tribal government entity; or
 - A self-attestation by a consumer who identifies as a victim of trafficking that is signed or certified by a Federal, State, or Tribal government entity, court of competent jurisdiction, or an authorized representative of these entities.

You may submit trafficking documentation through the following methods:
